About Delhi

The National Capital Territory of Delhi (NCT), has a population of about 11 million and a metropolitan population of about 16.3 million, making it the second most populous city. Such is the nature of urban expansion in Delhi that its growth has expanded beyond the NCT to incorporate towns in neighboring states and at its largest extent can count a population of about 27 million residents as of 2016. The NCT and its urban region have been given the special status of National Capital Region (NCR) under the Constitution of India's 69th amendment act of 1991. The NCR includes the neighbouring cities of Gurgaon, Noida, Ghaziabad, Faridabad, Neharpar (Greater Faridabad), Greater Noida.

As a union territory, the political administration of the NCT of Delhi today more closely resembles that of a state of India, with its own legislature, high court and an executive council of ministers headed by a chief minister. New Delhi is jointly administered by the federal government of India and the local government of Delhi, and is the capital of the NCT of Delhi. The city has been continuously inhabited since the 6th century BC. Through most of its history, Delhi has served as a capital of various kingdoms and empires. It has been captured, ransacked and rebuilt several times, particularly during the medieval period, and modern Delhi is a cluster of a number of cities spread across the metropolitan region.

Same Day Agra Tour

Distance: 240 kms / 4 hrs | Duration: Same Day Trip

Places Covered: Taj Mahal, Agra Fort

Taj Mahal
(closed on Friday)

Agra, the city known for the Taj Mahal, the legendary monument of love - is the single most famous tourist destination of India. Approximately 210 kms from south of Delhi, Agra is located on the west bank of the river Yamuna. The architectural splendour of the city is reflected in the glorious monuments of medieval India built by the Mughals who ruled India for more than 300 years.

Agra Fort
(closed on Monday)

The Agra Fort, also built on the banks of the river Yamuna, is another monumental mission accomplished by the great Mughal visionary, the Emperor Akbar. His son Jehangir and grandson Shah Jehan added to this imposing structure during their respective reigns. The palaces, mosques and audience halls contained within its massive walls of red sandstone are perfect examples of the amalgamation of Islamic and Hindu architectural traditions.

Full Day Delhi Tour

Duration: 8 hrs | Duration: Full Day Trip

Delhi the capital of modern India, has been a political hub and capital city for the many empires and invaders of the Indian subcontinent. It is the third largest city of the world. It is also the second largest metropolis after Mumbai with a population of over 13 million. Delhi is also one of the oldest continually inhabited cities of the world. The various monuments of Delhi stand witness to its eventful past. From the Old Fort, the Tughlaqabad area, to the various tombs in the city, each representing a separate period in the history of Delhi. The modern historical monuments in New Delhi are mostly those built during the time of the British Raj like the Parliament House, President's House, the India Gate among others.

Day 2: Delhi - Agra (approximately 200 kms / 4 hrs)

Taj Mahal

Early in the morning you will be picked up from the hotel and driven to Agra to visit the world renowned Taj Mahal (closed on Friday). Referred to as one of the wonders of the world, the Taj Mahal in Agra is the epitome of tourism in India and is celebrated for its architectural magnificence and aesthetic beauty. A symphony in white marble, a tribute to eternal love, it was built by the Emperor Shah Jehan in memory of his wife Mumtaz Mahal.

Agra Fort

Few forts in the world have a more fascinating story to tell than the great Agra Fort, an outstanding example of Mughal architecture and the seat and stronghold of the Mughal Empire. Originally planned as an impregnable military structure by Akbar, the Agra Fort, over a period of time, acquired all the elegance, lavishness and majesty of an imperial palace. Aside from the Imperial monuments of Delhi, the 'Pink' city of Jaipur with its royal palaces and the overwhelmingly beautiful Taj Mahal at Agra are the principal attractions of this tour of North India.

Overnight in Agra

Day 3: Agra to Jaipur enroute Fatehpur Sikri (approximately 250 kms / 6 hrs)

You will proceed to the 'Pink' city of Jaipur (250 kms / 6hrs) enroute visiting Akbar's abandoned capital, Fatehpur Sikri. Located 40 kms from Agra, Fatehpur Sikri was built by the Mughal emperor Akbar in 1571 in honour of the Sufi Saint, Sheikh Salim Chisti. It was the Mughal capital for 14 years. Thereafter it was abandoned due to paucity of water. It is made of red sandstone and combines influences from both Hindu and Mughal architecture. To this day, the entrance to the fort is via the road that Akbar built which leads to the Buland Darwaza, a huge 54 metre gateway. Other inspiring monuments in Fatehpur Sikri are the Hiran Minar that Akbar built in memory of his favourite elephant, the Tomb of Sheikh Salim Chishti, Birbal's House and the Diwan-i-Khas.

Overnight in Jaipur

Day 4: Jaipur (Full Day)
